AI Converts ASL Language Translation into 3D – Hands-On Exploration with Texas’ Premiere Language Interpreting Company

[Houston, Texas] You’re Invited! Join us as Budapest-based SignAll and Houston-based Nightingale Interpreting Services demonstrates how Artificial Intelligence (A.I.) can translate American Sign Language (ASL) into real time using computer visioning.

The concept of creating a sign language translation platform – capturing the hand, finger, and upper body motions and translating them into text is exciting and leading-edge computer learning for the Deaf and hearing communities. This computer learning aid has the ability to improve many fields including but not limited to customer service centers.

The scheduled demonstration will take place on Wednesday, December 5, 2018 between 2:00 – 6:00 p.m. at 6220 Westpark Drive, #238, Houston, TX 77057, and is open to the media, the Deaf and Interpreting Community, and ASL Interpreting Community.

This is a first for the Houston community. Being able to translate from ASL to text simultaneously is the next step in improving communications between the Deaf/Hard of Hearing and Deaf Community and the hearing population. It brings a feeling of community to the often, under-served Deaf Community.
